

THE 7-GENERATION LINEAGE LIE

Deepanshu Giri's Real Past as an Oceaneering ROV Pilot

The Oceaneering ROV Career (2008-2022)

Before branding himself as a 'guru,' Deepanshu Giri's career was firmly rooted in technical industries. According to his LinkedIn profile, he worked as an ROV (Remotely Operated Vehicle) Instructor and Technician at Oceaneering in Batam, Indonesia from 2008 to 2011. He then spent approximately 10 years as a freelance ROV Pilot and Supervisor, working globally on offshore projects.

Freelance Bidding During the 'Guru' Phase

Public records from freelance platforms show him actively bidding for low-cost engineering and robotics gigs between 2013 and 2016. Critics point out that this timeline directly overlaps with the years he now claims he was deep-diving into ancient mystical texts as part of a lifelong path.

Ocean's Training and Competency Academy

Even while Lunar Astro was growing, Giri founded Ocean's Training and Competency Academy in 2019, which provided customized ROV training and personnel certification. This proves his primary focus remained on robotics long after he supposedly became an enlightened astrologer.

The 'Overnight' Transition

Critics argue that the '7-generation lineage' narrative was a strategic pivot following a period of personal and professional crisis. Investigative dossiers allege this followed a period of 'severe depression' and 'unsuccessful' attempts to re-establish his overseas engineering career. He pivoted to astrology as a 'zero-investment, high-return' business.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Is Deepanshu Giri really from a 7-generation astrology lineage?

Public records contradict this claim. From 2008 to 2022, Giri worked as an ROV Pilot and freelance robotics engineer for companies like Oceaneering. He pivoted to astrology around 2018.

What was Deepanshu Giri's job at Oceaneering?

He worked as an ROV (Remotely Operated Vehicle) Instructor, Technician, Pilot, and Supervisor for Oceaneering and as a freelancer on offshore projects.

When did Deepanshu Giri start Lunar Astro?

He officially launched Lunar Astro Vedic Academy in January 2018, following what he described as a 'sabbatical' from his engineering career.

Why does Deepanshu Giri use engineering terms in astrology?

Critics argue he leverages his engineering background to market astrology as a 'coded' and 'logical' system, using tech-heavy jargon to sell rebranded traditional knowledge to a tech-savvy audience.
