Executive Summary: The Architecture of Exploitation

The core mechanics of the Lunar Astro Vedic Academy operate on a highly calculated, cyclical shield structure. This architecture is designed explicitly to maximize profits while eliminating personal and legal accountability for its founder, Deepanshu Giri.

By trapping the consumer in a loop of hidden identities, the business model creates a perfect environment for financial exploitation and psychological manipulation. This report maps out the exact structure of this corporate firewall and provides the legal framework required to dismantle it.

1. The Cyclical Deception Model

The entire structure functions as a three-tier corporate firewall, designed to pass the blame in an endless loop so the consumer can never hold a specific individual accountable.

[DEEPANSHU GIRI]

Hides behind the panel; claims to be merely an "educator"

[LUNAR ASTRO PANEL]

Claims transparency, but uses hidden identities

[CODED OPERATIVES]

Hide behind codes; use Giri's name to justify elite fees

↪ Loops back to exploit consumer trust in the founder

Phase 1: Deepanshu Giri Hides Behind the Panel

When a consultation goes wrong, fear tactics are used, or a prediction fails, the founder legally distances himself. He claims he is merely the "educator" or "researcher" and that the service was delivered by the panel, shielding himself from direct consumer court liability.

Phase 2: The Panel Hides Behind Anonymous Codes

The platform markets an elite, highly vetted team, but hides the actual service providers behind faceless numbers like Code 5007 or Code 5027. This ensures consumers cannot verify the real names, background checks, or actual qualifications of the person handling their sensitive data.

Phase 3: The Coded Operatives Hide Behind Deepanshu Giri

The individual students or low-paid contractors reading the charts use Giri's authority and "7-generation lineage" marketing to justify charging premium fees. If a client questions their expertise, the operative deflects by claiming they are strictly trained under Giri's personal methodology, looping the authority back to the founder.

2. The Enforcement Arm: Silencing the Critics

To keep this masterclass structure from collapsing, the system relies on a digital enforcement wing. When an exploited client or whistleblower attempts to break this loop by exposing the real names or mechanics of the scam, operatives like Manit Verma and a network of proxy accounts are deployed.

They cyberbully, mass-report, and intimidate the victim into silence. This ensures the lucrative "bait-and-switch" funnel remains uninterrupted and the corporate firewall remains intact.

3. Dismantling the Shield Under Indian Law

While this structure is clever marketing, the Indian legal system classifies it as a coordinated fraudulent scheme. By stripping away their anonymity, consumers and legal authorities can break the loop:

Consumer Protection Act, 2019

Courts look past corporate structures (piercing the corporate veil). Failing to disclose the true identity and qualifications of a service provider is a textbook definition of an Unfair Trade Practice and Deceptive Marketing.

Criminal Fraud (BNS Section 319 / IPC 416)

Masking an untrained student behind a corporate code to collect premium fees under the guise of an expert panel satisfies the elements of Cheating by Personation. The operatives and the directors facilitating this are criminally liable.

Actionable Recourse

If you or someone you know has been caught in this loop and needs to take formal action, the best approach is to file a combined complaint targeting both the platform and its directors.

Victims are encouraged to file a formal grievance with the National Consumer Helpline (NCH) and lodge a cybercrime complaint against the enforcement network to expose these coded accounts. Do not let the corporate firewall intimidate you; the law is designed to dismantle it.
